I urge you to deny this petition. The USA is based, in most part, on the principle of a free market economy, if a service provider does not satisfy their customers' wishes then they lose market and must adapt or perish: they do not lobby the government to ban their competitors from doing business better than they can. XM Radio currently provides a superior radio service to that of the members of the NAB, and I pay them to do so. It is not up to the NAB or the House to dictate to me what my dollars can purchase and from whom. Let the satellite radio companies compete fairly and without interference.
